This, Mass Customized Learning or MCL,

is a very promising premise for education

even if I personally think it's an awful name. It makes learning available 24/7 and truly would individualize for all students.

of you who have read Inevitable: Mass Customized Learning know that the book describes, in detail, a desirable and doable vision that makes it possible to meet the learning needs of every learner, every hour, of every day.

Mass Customized Learning

MCL4YL is a new and exciting vision for education that uses today's powerful mass customizing technology to meet the learning needs of young learners (approximately ages 6-10) every hour of every day. MCL4YL is not about "technology as teacher." It is about "technology as a learning facilitator enabler." That is what makes it so innovative.

Personalized Learning. Five years ago, the Maine Coalition for Excellence in Education (now called Educate Maine) sent a copy of Inevitable: Mass Customized Learning to all superintendents in the state. The book-length sales pitch was purchased with funding from the Nellie Mae Education Foundation as part of its lobbying campaign for Maine's proficiency-based diploma mandate.
